

*I feel like I am a point Art is like magic, providing power, freedom and endless possibilities Through it I can explain myself, my thoughts, my heart
I am sincere to art, sincere to all the arts Yet the art that provides me with clarity is painting and sculpting*

My name is Majed and I am from Syria. When I wrote my first poem I was 10 years old. My father pushed and supported my passion for writing, leading me to write many more poems. Since then, I have been able to write two books, one of which is still waiting to be published. Alongside my wife who is a poet herself, we were able to participate in a competition called “Prints of the Poem” and both achieved first place. Aside from poetry, I am also a painter, writer, theatre performer and calligrapher. During my time working in Kuwait, I worked in the preparation and presentation of a television program on poetry and literary criticism.
